Jacqueline MULLER

Jacqueline Muller is a world renowned Transformation Coach. She has created a unique coaching style based on truly seeing you and unlocking your full potential. Her wide-ranging experiences around the world, both professional and personal, have brought together a message that is sure to change the life of anyone who encounters it. Her work examining the various layers of our personality is extraordinary. She will uncover these layers or "bodies" and guide you through how each one affects and influences all aspects of your life, leading to acceptance of self, inner freedom, joy and business success.

"Joy is the Spice of Life, where there is Joy, there is Peace and where there is Peace, there is JOY" is one of her favorite sayings.

Jacqueline is not one to talk much about her achievements in business as a trailblazing glass ceiling breaking, woman in Asia. Without a doubt, her extensive global business experience and sense of humour have paved the way for what is truly her passion: working with people and creating lightheartedness and success, both in corporate leadership and personal lives.
